

RISK Leader TANGO

The Risk LeaderTANGO Workshop comes to London!

Monday-Tuesday 14-15 May 2018
Redwood House, Engineers Way, Wembley HA9 0FW, UK

Today's businesses face new and unprecedented levels of challenge, as we learn to live in a VUCA world, characterised by Volatility, Uncertainty, Complexity, and Ambiguity. One key survival skill in this VUCA world is risk leadership – every organisation needs leaders who are able to handle uncertainty themselves, inspire others to take appropriate action, and manage risk to the advantage of their organisation.

The Risk LeaderTANGO Workshop offers a unique way to understand the skills of risk leadership, using dance as a metaphor for risk-taking. Combining the expertise of Aga Gasperini in the Argentine tango and applied leadership coaching, plus David Hillson's risk thought-leadership role as The Risk Doctor, the Risk LeaderTANGO Workshop provides a unique learning opportunity for those who want to improve their skills in leading others.

The Risk LeaderTANGO Workshop includes both theoretical and practical learning, to explore the essential competencies of risk leadership: Trust, Agility, Naturalness, Guidance, Ownership. By embodying and practising these five qualities, you'll maximise your risk leadership abilities, enabling you to lead others into effective management of risk. You'll learn new skills that you can apply immediately in the workplace, you'll have fun in a relaxed environment, and you may also improve your dancing skills (though this is not guaranteed)!

The workshop is designed for:

- senior leaders, executives and managers who need to improve their risk leadership;
- risk practitioners seeking new approaches to facilitate others in managing risk;
- team leaders (and their teams) facing high levels of risk and complexity.
